SUMMARY

I am a dedicated and passionate individual with a strong interest in technology and digital production, seeking to further develop my skills through practical experience and formal study. I have successfully completed projects such as a personal website and have produced graphic design materials including advertising content, YouTube thumbnails, and custom logos. I am reliable, punctual, and committed to delivering work of a high standard. Additionally, I possess proven leadership and management skills, demonstrated through my experience in overseeing an online community exceeding 1000 members and managing a team of more than 10 staff members. My enthusiasm for learning and adaptability enable me to quickly acquire new skills and contribute effectively in any environment.
